

DID THE MONA LISA WATCH NAPOLEON SLEEP?

Oui! (Yes)

In 1800, Napoleon hung The Mona Lisa in his bedroom at the Tuileries Palace. Mona Lisa's dreamy eyes gazed upon the French Emperor for four years before she was returned to the Louvre.

That's a fact, Jack!